INTEGRATED PROGRAM MANAGEMENT

WHO WE ARE

The Integrated Program Management Division (IPMD) leads the advancement of integrated program management through industry and government partnership. The Division provides thought leadership in Integrated Program Management (IPM). The Division achieves this objective by conducting forums and meetings to advance IPM practices as well as by providing and publishing industry perspectives on IPM topics. As the author and steward of the EIA-748 Standard for Earned Value Management Systems (EVMS), the Division also creates and maintains industry standards and guides.

OUR OBJECTIVES

- Collaborate with key stakeholders. The Division proactively engages and participates with government, industry executive leadership, industry groups, academia, and other entities to foster the advancement of IPM.
- Provide an open forum for industry, defense, civilian agency leaders, and educators to promote IPM best practices.
- Facilitate interaction with government policymakers to foster a better understanding of their mission through first-hand information on current topics such as impending policy, leadership, regulatory, or process changes that can affect programs.
- Broaden professional networks with industry leaders, organization leaders from a variety of sectors such as civilian agencies and DoD services, and other related program management disciplines such as systems engineering.
- Solicit advice from experts while sharing program management best practices with industry and government counterparts.
- Contribute to industry guides and white papers with working groups.

HARASSMENT STATEMENT

The National Defense Industrial Association (NDIA), National Training & Simulation Association (NTSA), and Women in Defense (WID) are committed to providing a professional environment free from physical, psychological, and verbal harassment. NDIA and its affiliates, NTSA and WID, will not tolerate harassment of any kind, including but not limited to harassment based on ethnicity, religion, disability, physical appearance, gender, or sexual orientation. This policy applies to all participants and attendees at NDIA, NTSA, and WID conferences, meetings, and events. Harassment includes offensive gestures and verbal comments, deliberate intimidation, stalking, following, inappropriate photography and recording, sustained disruption of talks or other events, inappropriately physical contact, and unwelcome attention. Participants requested to cease harassing behavior are expected to comply immediately, and failure will serve as grounds of revoking access to the NDIA, NTSA or WID event.

ANTITRUST POLICY

NDIA has a policy of strict compliance with federal and state antitrust laws. The antitrust laws prohibit competitors from engaging in actions that could result in an unreasonable restraint of trade. Consequently, NDIA members must avoid discussing certain topics when they are together – both at formal association membership, board, committee, and other meetings and in informal contacts with other industry members: prices, fees, rates, profit margins, or other terms or conditions of sale (including allowances, credit terms, and warranties); allocation of markets or customers or division of territories; or refusals to deal with or boycotts of suppliers, customers or other third parties, or topics that may lead participants not to deal with a particular supplier, customer or third party.

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

LTG DAVID BASSETT, USA

Director, Defense Contract Management Agency

Army Lt. Gen. David G. Bassett is the Director of the Defense Contract Management Agency, headquartered at Fort Lee, VA. As the Director, he leads a Department of Defense agency consisting of more than 12,000 civilians and military personnel who manage more than 300,000 contracts, performed at 15,000 locations worldwide, with a total value in excess of $7 trillion.

Bassett assumed leadership of DCMA on June 4, 2020. He came to the agency after serving as Program Executive Officer for Command, Control and Communications-Tactical (PEO C3T) since January 2018, where he was responsible for the development, acquisition, fielding and support of the Army's tactical network, a critical modernization priority.

Bassett was commissioned into the Signal Corps in 1988 through ROTC concurrent with a BS in Electrical Engineering from the University of Virginia. As a junior officer, he served in Germany in tactical positions with the 2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment and 123rd Signal Battalion, 3rd Infantry Division.

Following the Signal Officer's Advanced Course and completion of an MS in Computer Science through the University of Virginia, Bassett was assigned to the U.S. European Command Staff, where he served as the Requirements Analysis and Interoperability Action Officer, J6.

He transferred to the Army Acquisition Corps in 1999 and was assigned to Fort Monmouth, NJ, as Operations Officer, Communications and Electronics Command Software Engineering Center. Bassett went on to manage software development efforts for the Army's Future Combat Systems program. He then served on the Joint Staff as the Ground Maneuver Analyst, Capabilities and Acquisition Division, J8.

From July 2009 to May 2012, Bassett served as the Army's Project Manager for Tactical Vehicles within the Program Executive Office for Combat Support & Combat Service Support (PEO CS&CSS). He then managed the Joint Program Office, Joint Light Tactical Vehicles (JLTV), through the Engineering and Manufacturing Development award.

In September 2013, Bassett was appointed Program Executive Officer, Ground Combat Systems, where he managed the portfolio of the Army's combat vehicle fleet including major modernization efforts to Abrams, Bradley, Stryker, and self-propelled howitzer programs while also initiating the Army's Armored-Multi Purpose Vehicle program. Previous he served as Deputy PEO CS&CSS.

Bassett is a graduate of the Army Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, KS, and a distinguished graduate of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces in Washington, DC.

G. EDWARD DESEVE

Advisor to the Agile Government Center, National Academy of Public Administration

As Special Advisor to President Barack Obama, Mr. DeSeve oversaw the successful implementation of the $787 Billion American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. He is currently Advisor to the Agile Government Center at the National Academy of Public Administration and a Visiting Fellow of the IBM Center for the Business of Government.

His career has included work in finance, academia and government. Mr. DeSeve was the founder and president of Public Financial Management—the United States' largest independent financial advisor to governments. At Merrill Lynch Capital Markets, he was a managing director in charge of public finance in a 20-state region.

Additional government service at the federal level included being Controller and Deputy Director of the Office of Management and Budget as well as the Chief Financial Officer of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. He was the Director of Finance for the City of Philadelphia and served as a Special Assistant to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

He held a tenured professorship of Public Management and Finance at the University of Maryland and was a Senior Lecturer at the University of Pennsylvania. For Brookings Executive Education, DeSeve served as Executive in Residence. He was Executive Director of the State Budget Crisis Task Force, founded by Richard Ravitch and Paul Volcker, to examine the financial condition of states following the global financial crisis.

At each level of government, Mr. DeSeve oversaw complex fiscal affairs. He was instrumental in balancing Philadelphia's budget during two fiscal crises. At OMB, he helped balance the federal budget for the first time in more than a generation. While at OMB, he oversaw the fiscal reforms of the District of Columbia that led to its return to investment grade ratings with strong budget and cash surpluses.

He is the author of numerous publications including, The Presidential Appointees' Handbook (Second Edition Brookings 2017). At the National Academy of Public Administration, he served as Vice Chair and co-authored its first Fiscal Future Report in 2005, warning of the coming federal deficits. He was awarded the Kenneth Howard award for career public service in financial management by the American Society of Public Administration. He serves as a member of the selection committee of the Harvard University Ash Center Innovations in American Government Award.

He is a graduate of Cornell University's School of Industrial and Labor Relations and has a Master's in Public Finance from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.
